

Biography

Eric Leroy

Global Marketing Director, Beauty Care at Syensqo

Eric has 22 years of experience, initially with Solvay and subsequently with Syensqo following a spin-off. Eric started his career as a Beauty Care R&I project manager, and since 2008, he has moved into different business and commercial roles, both in France and in the United States. Since 2017, Eric has led the marketing and business development teams globally for Beauty Care. In his role, Eric is responsible for delivering our business development plans in the Beauty Care segment, including its operational and strategic marketing aspects.